PREFACE

Collectors perusing the following pages will find a miscellaneous lot of material and such as to have something for every one. Especially good are the Pattern Pieces and Cents, while the collection of Lincoln Medals is unusually extensive and a series that are being looked after, but of which few are in the market for sale.

The Coins, etc., will be on exhibition from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. at the auction rooms.

Bids will be faithfully and carefully executed by me for the usual 10 per cent. of the amount purchased—no charge unless purchase is made.

Very careful, accurate cataloguing has brought me many expressions of approval from bidders and which I greatly appreciate. The goods are as described; so bid your highest, and if they can be bought for less you will receive the benefit.

Catalogues, with the price the pieces sell for written in, will be supplied after the sale on receipt of 50 cents. Payment requested with order when convenient.

Any person who has regularly been receiving my Catalogues and who has discontinued collecting will greatly oblige me by notifying me of the fact, so their name may be removed from my mailing list, which is now being revised.
